

TRIPLE THREAT DESIGN.

With @Chrissulimay

Chris is an industry author, speaker, podcaster and educator who has worn many hats throughout his career. With Cutting as his first passion, he learned to develop a high powered clientele through learning how to design shapes to fit the individual in his chair, rather than just following the trend.

In Triple Threat Design, you'll learn to marry shape, color, and finish to create the perfect look to suit each individual client! Elevate your design skills 10x in this one-day hands-on cutting course where you will learn how to:

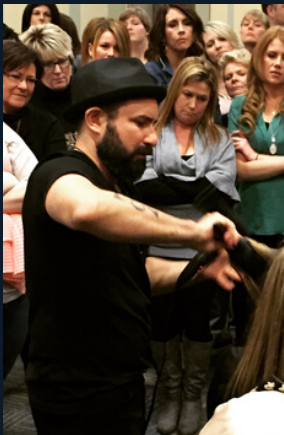

- Assess design, and shape your haircuts to improve the overall look of the color and finish
- Enhance the best features of your client while camouflaging imperfections
- Marry your texturizing with the shape
- Create a point of difference for your personal brand and become the go-to hairstylist in your city

Complete up to 4 finished shapes in one day
